EXCURSION TO CAMP MEADE.

The Arrangements That Have Been Made for It.

The committee in charge of the excursion to Camp Meade has given out the following information regarding the trip:

The residents of Northeastern Pennsylvania will be afforded an excellent opportunity on Saturday of this week to visit Camp Meade and see their friends among the soldiers.

An excursion will be run from this city by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad to Northumberland, thence to the camp by way of the Pennsylvania railroad. The railway committee has arranged for the excursionists at the camp at least as early as 12 o'clock noon.

Returning, the train will start at 6 and reach Scranton at 11 p. m. The fare for the round trip is $2. The regular fare from this city to Harrisburg is a trifle over $8, consequently the rate for Saturday's excursion is quite low. A lunch car will be attached to the train. If the required number of seats are engaged ahead, one or more parlor cars will be provided. These seats may be secured at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western ticket office.

HOUSE BREAKING CHARGED.

No Evidence to Support the Allegation of John Quinn.

John Quinn, of Morris court, West Side, swore out warrants yesterday before Alderman Miller for Louis Johnston, Mary Reese and Mrs. Niles All. The charge was housebreaking.

A hearing was given the defendants at 7 o'clock in the evening and after all the evidence, and there was a rough-and-tumble mass of it, the alderman discharged the defendants.

Quinn alleged that they broke into his house in the dead hour of Monday night. The story they told did not gain any that they did break in, but the explanation for so doing put a different complexion on the case. All parties are neighbors. The defendants claimed that they were started by shouts and screams from Quinn's house that seemed like the warwhoop of a hostile Indian. They did not know that someone in the house was in distress, and after seeking all manner of means to get in by rapping at the front and back doors and windows, the noises continuing meanwhile, they finally burst in the front door, and came face to face with Quinn and his wife standing in the middle of the kitchen floor, apparently in the most perfect harmony.

The defendants had ample evidence to show that they are quiet, law-abiding persons, and the alderman believed their story and let them go.

SMITH'S PETITION DISMISSED.

Candidate for Judge Woefully Ignorant of the Law.

As was assuredly anticipated, the Dauphin county court decided yesterday that there was no merit whatever in Cornelius Smith's protest against Judge Gunster's name appearing in both the Republican and Democratic columns of the official ballots.

Judge Simonon, who passed upon the matter, dismissed the petition without hearing any argument on it at all.

MAJOR WINT IN THE CITY

He Was Injured on San Juan Hill, July 1, After Displaying Great Bravery—Recommended for Promotion.

A Scranton man who was wounded at San Juan and who was recommended for promotion for gallant conduct on the field is now recuperating here. He is Major Theodore J. Wint, of the Tenth United States cavalry, a former resident of East Market street, but for the last quarter of a century or more an officer in the regular army, and consequently without a fixed place of residence.

Major Wint and his wife arrived in this city from New York on one of yesterday's early morning trains and are stopping at the home of their brother, L. H. Wint, corner of Casspoose avenue and Green Ridge street.

Before coming here Major Wint was in a New York hospital nursing a fractured leg. He was wounded in the first day's fighting at San Juan hill, July 1, a bullet from a Mauser rifle striking him in the groin and fracturing the femur just below the hip. He is still compelled to use crutches, but is rapidly recovering his strength and will soon be able to walk without support.

Major General Wheeler, in his official report of the battle, specially eulogized Major Wint's gallantry and recommended him for promotion.

Major Wint has been a soldier since '61. He went out with the Sixth Pennsylvania Volunteer cavalry, acting for a time as General McClellan's permanent orderly, and of the regular army, he was entered the regular army. He has been an officer for a quarter of a century, working himself from the lowest non-com place to his present high position by his own efforts.

James Medley, of the more recent unpleasantness he was stationed at Fort Assiniboine, Mont.

A Tribune reporter sought an interview with him last evening, but he evaded being quoted, saying that the story has been thoroughly told, and that it would be presumptuous for him to attempt to re-tell it after the men who were there for that sole purpose. The only question he would speak upon was the conduct of the war correspondents.

Matters pertaining to the military he plainly but firmly declined to discuss. Of the war correspondents he said only the most pleasant things. They saw what was going on, he said, no matter what the risk might be.
